

OPALION

Every little magnificent detail
will astonish you

It is finally here... the seat for the fastidious connoisseur to whom only excellent quality matters. Opalion is the perfect seat for the connoisseur who desires elegance and exclusivity in his bathroom.

May we present Opalion – a unique piece of craftsmanship that brings a whole new standard of exclusivity into the bathroom.

Seats for your senses

Opalion is Danish craftsmanship at its best. It is created by Børge Aaby who was given free artistic reign to create a different toilet seat based on an existing duroplast model in connection with the launch of the Pressalit Art Gallery.

The result is an exceptional piece of craftsmanship. With Opalion Børge Aaby has turned something conventional into a beautiful piece of art. Børge, who is a trained carpenter, knows all about the possibilities and limitations of wood and Opalion is a magnificent example of this! Superior craftsmanship and a sense of beautiful and attractive shapes go hand in hand.

Opalion is an exclusive seat from Pressalit made of wood carefully selected for its attractive structures and colours. Many hours have been devoted to even the smallest detail. This makes every single Opalion one in a million.

A distinguished piece of Danish design. A seat in a class of its own, unique and uncompromised quality – i.e. a seat for the connoisseur.

OPALION

The engraving is elegantly branded into the seat.

The seat has a lift-off function for easy removal of the seat when cleaning.

Opalion also offers silent closing which is a completely unique feature for wooden seats.

A small, hygienic handle has elegantly been integrated into the lid.

Pressalit Opalion is suitable for most standard pans.
